Present Their

STELLA MARIS for '68

VOL. 18

Prologue

Due to the general state of the affairs of the world today, we feel that it is fitting that we, the heirs of this troubled Society, should put forth the ideals which we hope to carry to fulfillment in our maturity. In such a time of universal turmoil, strains of peace are forewarded from all sides. It is, however, with a lasting peace with which we are concerned.

"Today we are faced with the preeminent fact that, if civilization is to survive, we must cultivate the science of human relationships--the ability of all peoples, of all kinds, to live together and work together, in the same world, at peace..."

(from an undelivered speech by F.D.R. written shortly before his death.)

"They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Isaiah 2:4

SUB MARIÆ NOMINE

REV. VINCENT ROBICHAUD, S.M.

REV. DOLOR GINCHEREAU, S.M.

REV. GERARD PELLETIER, S.M.

We wish to congratulate the Marist Fathers on this, the 150th anniversary of their mission of peace. A solemn vote of thanks is also in order for these dedicated men who have enriched our lives both in the realms of spiritual and secular activities. We further wish to welcome our three newcomers to Notre Dame; Fr. Ginchereau, Fr. Robichaud and Fr. Pelletier, hoping that their stay here will be a pleasant and rewarding experience.

Seniority in all aspects of life, entails responsibility. For the efforts, good or bad, exhibited by all men will either retard or advance the quest for a workable solution to the problems of mankind.

Leadership is not so uncommon a quality, but competent, reliable leadership is indeed a rarity. It is to this end, that we at Notre Dame are transformed into young adults, capable of exercising these qualities.

"Peace is not absence of war, it is a virture, a state of mind, a disposition for benevolence, confidence, justice."

Classes

In an age where the pace of life is rapidly progressing, education must also take steps to keep abreast of the constant change. So far, war has given birth to the marvels of this decade. The continuation of this creativity, must not come about through like means. Along with technical skills must come those which advance the intellectual growth of man, and the development of a milieu, in which peace may be the abiding state.

"For peace, with justice and honor, is the fairest and most profitable of possessions, but with disgrace and shameful honor, it is the most infamous and harmful of all."

Polybius

Revelation of Truth

Alice Chi, Andrew McAvoy, and Joyce Forte eagerly work at their posters for religion class.

Seniors raise their voices in song.

Looking Ahead

Catherine Drinan, Mike Cremin, Paul Oppedisano, and John Perry scan college catalogues hoping to find the right one.

Annette Boucher, Diane LeClair, Donna Parow and make decisions on their future.

Brian Kelly and Sr. Anne Genevieve talk about the rigors of the freshmen year.

Decisions concerning careers are being met head on by the class of '68.

Joan McDonald, Carol Simard, Catherine Passeri--our nurses of tomorrow.

What's so interesting Eileen and Margaret? Dave Barr and Chris O'Shea examine this year's schedule of plays sponsored by the Boston Herald Traveler.

Should we ask Donna Parow and Joan McDonald if Mike Cremin is studying, talking, or sleeping?

Exploring Literary Trails

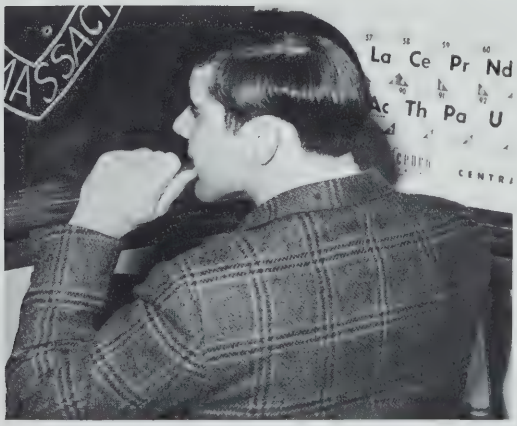
Are Susan Pridham and Joan McDonald laughing at Catherine Passeri or the record??

Sr. Anne Genevieve discusses Oedipus Rex with a few Senior girls.



The Master??? Ronnie Goulet, that is, contemplates.

Ou vas- tu?

N. D's own French import, Nadine Lamps, serves Joan Collins, Maureen Mullane and Tom Wright.

Coordinate Confusion

John Perry attempts to explain the intricacies of the slide rule to Ron Goulet, Joe Fitzgerald, Mike Cremin, and Andy McAvoy.

Paul Oppedisano strives to give his interpretation of the basic trigonometric functions.

Economics--A look at the Business World by Nadine Lamps, Gerard Cote, David Barr, and Margaret Roy.

Maureen Mullane and Thomas Wright come to terms on the Declaration.

World Watchers

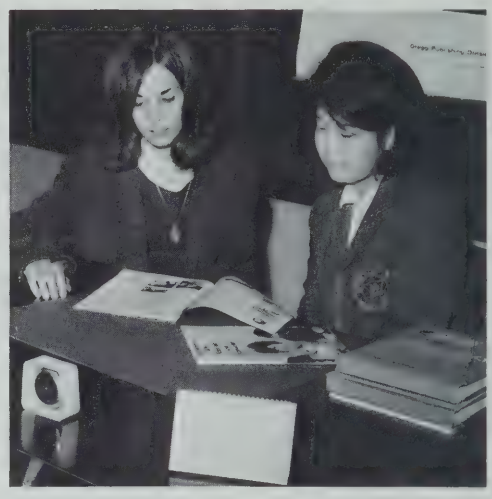
Andrew McAvoy and Ronny Goulet look on as Joe Fitzgerald sets the world situation straight.

Ron Goulet and John Perry scrutinize material on Foreign Policy Conference.

Donna Parow and Maureen Mullane question their chances of taking dictation at 120 words a minute.

Another typing lesson is vigorously attacked by Eileen Gautreau, Donna Beninati and Joyce Forte.



Points on what a good secretary should know are pondered over by Alice Chi and Sue Pridham.

As Linda Lavin and Annette Boucher admire their new awards, they dream of having their names engraved on the John Hancock Plaque.

Getting the Business

Daniel Cyr points out to Diane LeClair that he is gaining speed and will soon surpass the female contingent.

Without realizing it, Tom Wright and Joan Collins are gaining invaluable practice in filing, a feat of skill performed by most new office workers.

Juniors

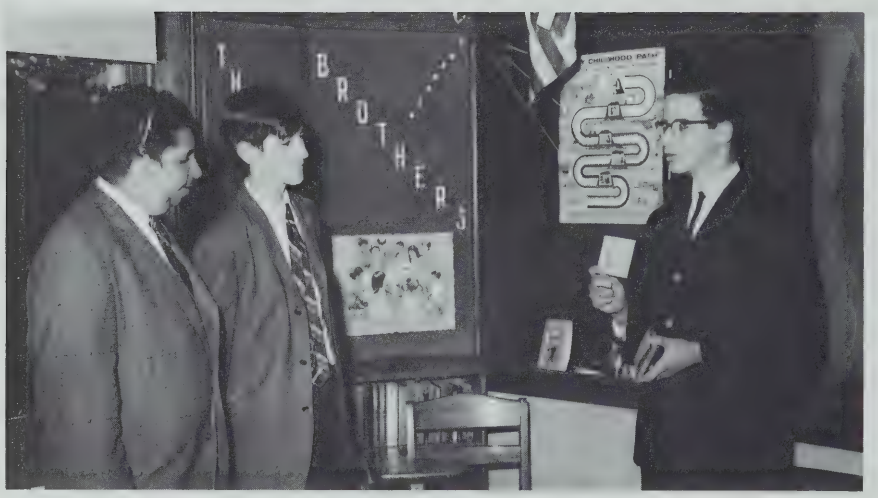
One for all, all for "hamming" it up! Nancy Haskell, Betty Desrosiers, Maryanne Kelley



"No Mr. Cremin, "explains Larry Forshay, "try again, this isn't a Spanish Class."John Reynolds seems to know silicon is the answer.

The Ladies Kelley and Desrosiers seem just as perplexed as the gentlemen Brooks and Perna.

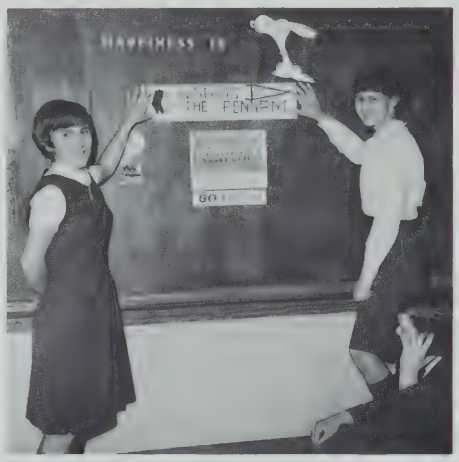
Is it Sr. Margarita Marie's math problem or the new overhead projector which is puzzling Janice Wamboldt, Jackie LaBerge, Chris O'Shea, James Nowlan and Raymond Dion?

Really that interesting, Mr. LaBerge? Or is it that Karen McNeil, Betty Igo, Carol Wagner and Betty Munroe can transcribe faster?

Sr. Rose Dolores' question seems to have Albert Cremin perplexed.

The Voice of Democracy as presented by Betty Desrosiers with her colleagues Chris O'Shea at the mike, Jackie LaBerge handling the script and Albert Cremin supervising the production.

Ed Ghilardi claims "God is alive!" What do the sophomores think?



Sue Marquis and Patricia Mahoney confidently post their pennant, but Kevin Donoghue awaits the final score.

Sophs

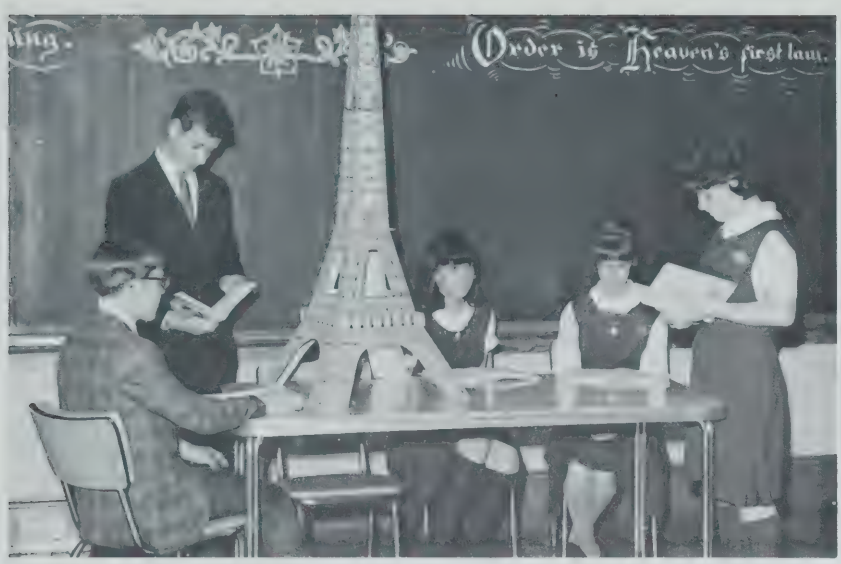
It's Math from all angles for sophomore, Alan Biagiotti.



Que faisons-nous avec la Tour Eiffel?

in Action

Did Richard Zylicz and Joan Kelley mess up their experiment that much? Pauline Scanlon and John Martin don't think so.

Engrossed in literature, and in one case, the clock; the Sophomores appear to be in a pensive mood.

"...California dreamin..."

"House of York," seems the Freshmen theme for the day for Steven Simard and Diane Wamboldt.

Frosh

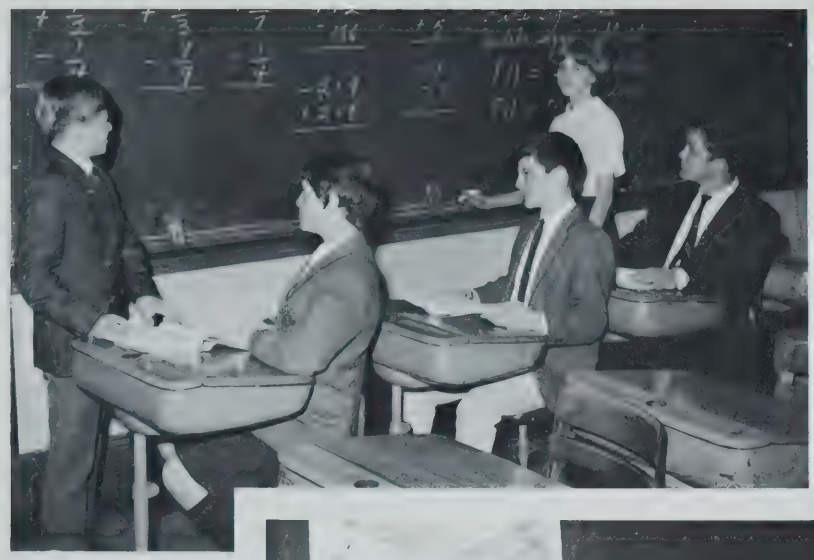
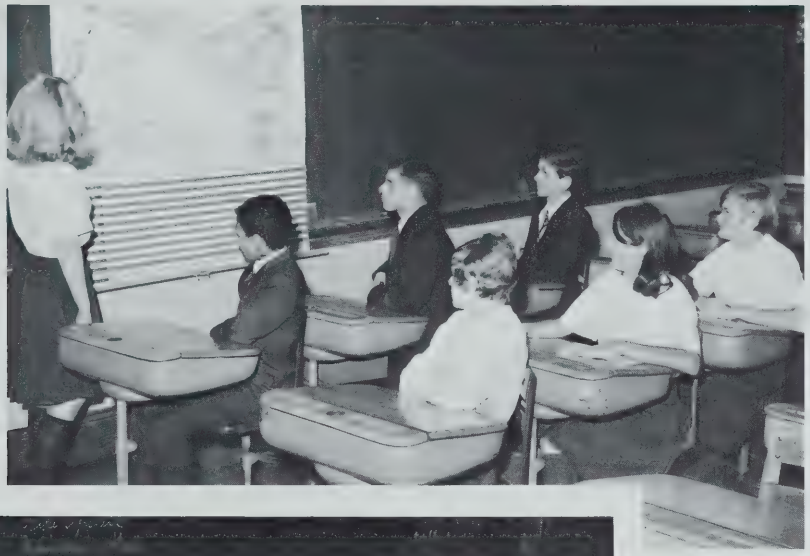
"What has Father Jim to say?"

Sr. Celine Gertrude explains the vastness of ancient civilization to Dennis Duffy.



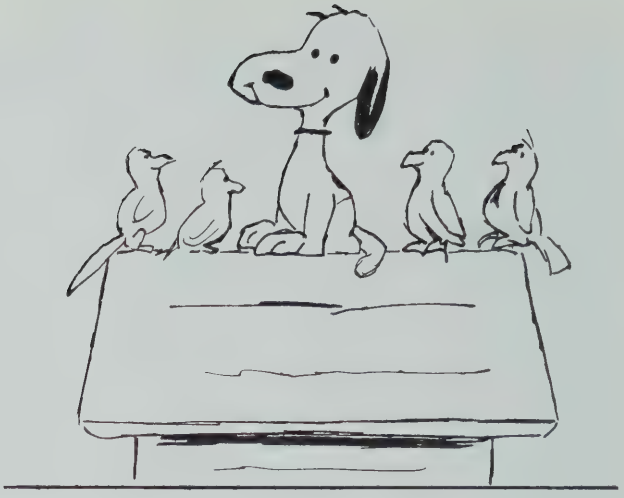


Dennis Duffy tries to understand the Algebra equations taught by Diane Belliveau.

Denise Beaudoin explains the mysteries of the Isle of Crete to a fascinated group.

Theresa Boulanger tests her classmates' skill in algebraic manipulations.

Happiness is getting together with your friends



Faithful Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. Donoghue "serve it up" to the N. D. "bread line."

Presenting: Mrs. Gallant, N. D.'s smiling secretary!

Tell us, Mrs. Doolin, is Joan Collins' diagnosis that bad?

Wow! She really expects us to fix this mess? The competent Mr. Ouellette and Mr. Ghilardi have their work cut out for them.

Mrs. Cyr sees to our Vitamin "B" upkeep.

In this wing of the kitchen, we see our highly complex dish-washing apparatus being kept by the efficient hand of Mrs. Bonin.

Activities

Apathy runs rampant through our nation. Many could not care less that millions of people die needlessly from malnutrition, disease and the misuse of man's creative genius. We cannot afford to let this trend continue.

A humane interest in the problems of our fellowmen dictates a revival of the spirit of involvement.

"Peaceful participation cuts off many foes."

Challenges

This year at Notre Dame a new facet was added to the 3rd and 4th year history courses. It is called "Challenges in American History," and it is produced by American Education publications.

Each of the five units consists of four paperbacks from which the student may choose. He is then given time to read his selection, and discussions are held.

The five units deal with the most outstanding developments in American History. The revolution is covered by unit one, with a book, such as "April Morning." Unit two deals with Western expansion;"Profiles in Courage" helped us here tremendously. A discourse on the Civil War was unit three, while units four and five gave us new and interesting insights into the World Wars and the new progressivism under Roosevelt.

The purpose of the program is to give students additional information on some of the most important periods in our history, and the reasons behind the actions that have led us into a position as the leading nation in the world today.

Catherine Drinan and Joan McDonald voice their opinions during a heated discussion on the causes of the War Between the States

Gerard Cote leads a discussion group through the trials of the American Revolution

Student Life

The social activities of the students paint a lively picture of the soul of the school. In truth the school and "the outside" are not two different worlds, but one. Man is a social being, his contacts with his fellow man enrich his own experience of life.

"If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men."

Commencement is the beginning of a journey into the adult world. A world where peace and freedom are not yet fully realized. A world which we have inherited, one, which in a few short years, we shall leave to another generation. Hopefully a world where peace and brotherhood will be a reality rather than mere words.

"So let us not rest our hopes on parchment and on paper; let us strive to build peace."

Athletics

Constant study and dedication may breed great intelligence, but without physical stimulus, this education is wasted. Study alone cannot forge the competitive instincts and the virtues of fair play and sportsmanship.

Coordination of the mind and body exhibited by athletes of all nations, clearly indicate that a common goal can serve as a bond linking all men.

"It must be a peace without victory. . . . Victory would mean peace forced upon the loser, a victor's terms imposed upon the vanquished."

W. Wilson (Address to Senate)

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

As we leave the portals of Notre Dame High, the Yearbook Staff and the members of the Class of '68 wish to pause a moment and express their deepest and most heartfelt appreciation

- to the Faculty for their interest, guidance, and untiring devotion in planning our STELLA MARIS;

- to our photographer, Mr. Ralph Tisei, for his kindness and excellent photographic work;

- to Mrs. Johnson of Vantine Studios for her efficiency and wholehearted co-operation;

-to the Portland Lithograph Company for their superior work;

and last, but by no means least

- to our Patrons and advertisers for their generosity in helping to make this edition of the STELLA MARIS possible.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
